Information we collect from you

On different parts of the website, we will ask you to supply information that allows us to personally identify you. This information includes your name, email address, and other information that allows us to contact you in order to provide you with our Services and in order to maintain the Site.

Use of information we collect from you

We store all information that you provide us. We use this information so that we can be in contact with you after you have placed an order on the site. We also use your information to contact you from time to time to send you additional information about our products and services and so that we can keep you informed about new products and promotions that might interest you. We also use this information to enhance your experience on the Site.

Opt-out

You may choose to stop receiving any future communications from us by contacting us through the "Contact Us" link on our Site. Please indicate your email address and your desire to opt-out of future communications. After you have opted-out of future communications, 360 Visual Media will not send you unsolicited communications. While using the Site, you can choose not to provide certain information, however, your decision to do so may inhibit our ability to provide you with our Services.

Use of cookies

A cookie is a small piece of data that is stored in a browser-related file on your computer's hard drive when you use the Services on the Site. Cookies are uniquely assigned to your computer, and are read by a web server in the domain that issued the cookie to you. Our primary use of cookies is to enable us to recognize your computer each time you return to our Site or use our Service, keep track of your preferences, determine what you have already seen on our Site and to improve your online experience. We may also use an e-mail delivery and marketing company to send e-mails that you have agreed to receive. Pixel tags and cookies are used in those e-mail messages to help us measure the effectiveness of our advertising. Third parties, including third-party advertisers, may also set cookies. Such third parties are responsible for placing and using such cookies and may collect information about you through such cookies. We do not have access to such cookies, control the use of such cookies or have control over the privacy policies of such parties.

If you do not want cookies stored on your computer you can reject cookies by modifying your web browser setting accordingly (each browser is different, so check the "Help" menu of your browser to learn how to change your cookie preferences).

In addition to cookies, 360 Visual Media logs standard information such as your IP address along with the URL from which you came to our Site and the URLs visited on our Site, which may or may not contain some personally identifiable information. IP addresses are used by your computer every time you are connected to the Internet. Your IP address is a number that is used by computers on the network to identify your computer. IP addresses are automatically collected by our web server as part of demographic and profile data known as "traffic data" so that data (such as the Web pages you request) can be sent to you. 360 Visual Media will not use your IP address to attempt to identify your personal information. Other "traffic data" includes time, the type of web browser being used, the operating system, and CPU speed. This information is sent automatically by your web browser when you are connected to a web site.

Protection of Personal Information

360 Visual Media uses secure servers in a state-of-the-art data center to protect your information. You should not share your password with anyone. 360 Visual Media personnel will never ask you to divulge your password in written or electronic communications. We will only ask you for your password when you contact us and only in cases where you request customer service to correct a service problem which requires your password. Additionally, 360 Visual Media uses Stripe.com, a third party company to process all credit card payments. Please visit Stripe's website at www.stripe.com to read Stripe's privacy policy with respect to personal information. Please be aware that while 360 Visual Media protects your personal information to the greatest extent possible, internet security technology changes rapidly and data transmission is never 100% secure. We use the most state of the art data security measures to protect your information. We cannot guarantee that any safeguards we use will completely protect your information from security threats now or in the future. You should also be aware that factors beyond our control may result in disclosure of your information. Accordingly, we are not able to guarantee the security of the information you transmit when utilizing our Services, and as such, you use the Site at your own risk.

Legal Matters; Protection of Rights, Property and Interests; Safety.

We may, without your consent, access and disclose your personal information, any communications sent or received by you, and any other information that we have about you or your account only in the following instances:

- 1- As may be required by law, regulation, rule or court order; pursuant to requests from governmental, regulatory or administrative agencies or law enforcement authorities.
- 2- To establish or exercise our legal rights or defend against legal claims.
- 3- To prevent, investigate, identify persons or organizations potentially involved in, or take any action regarding, suspected fraud, violations of our Terms of Service, or activity that appears to us to be illegal or may expose us to legal liability.
- 4 -In situations that we believe to be emergencies involving potential threats to the physical safety of any person or property if we believe that your personal information in any way relates to that threat.

Sharing of Information with Third Parties

Information about our customers is held in the highest security, and we will not sell it to others. We may, however, provide your personally identifiable information to other companies in the following instances:

We need to share your information to provide the product or service you have requested; We have your consent; We need to send the information to companies who work on behalf of 360 Visual Media to provide a product or service to you; We conclude that we are required by law or have a good faith belief that access, preservation or disclosure of such information is reasonably necessary to protect the rights, property or safety of 360 Visual Media, its users or the public; We find that your actions on our Site violates the Terms and of Service; We provide such information to trusted businesses or persons for the sole purpose of processing personally identifying information on our behalf. We might sell or buy subsidiaries or business units as we develop our business. In such transactions, customer information may be one of the transferred business assets.

Also in the event that 360 Visual Media, or substantially all of its assets are acquired, customer information will likely be one of the transferred assets. We may store and process personal information collected on our Site in the United States or any other country.
